In December 2016, the estate of Dr. Mary Ellen Pangonis donated $40,000 to the LAVC Foundation. Dr. Pangonis, who passed away in November 2015, had directed the estate gift to the Pangonis Endowed Scholarship Fund. She established the endowment in 2005 to benefit students majoring in Business at LAVC. When she passed away, the endowment totaled $60,000 and had awarded over $20,000 in scholarships since its inception. Altogether, the endowment now totals over $100,000 and will award about $2,000 to one student annually.

Dr. Pangonis was a well-respected faculty member and colleague. She was a Business Law professor at Valley College for more than 35 years, and taught a variety of law and business management courses including Law 1, Law 2, Management, Communications, Real Estate Law, Legal Procedures, and Business English. She contributed to the Business Administration Department by serving as the department chair for almost 20 years. For a short while, she also served as the Chair of both the Business Administration and Computer Applications & Office Technology (CAOT) departments. She also participated in the planning and implementation of the Tech Prep, Afternoon College, the SCAN-based Design or Vitality curriculum review program, the high school F.I.R.E. Academies, and many worksite visits and staff development programs for high school and LAVC faculty.

LAVC President Endrijonas Named Pioneer Woman of the Year

The Commission on the Status of Women and the Los Angeles City Councilman Paul Krekorian, Council District 2, honored LAVC President Dr. Erika Endrijonas with LA City Council District's "2017 Pioneer Woman of the Year" on Friday, March 31st in downtown Los Angeles.

By naming her "Pioneer Woman of the Year", LA Council District 2 recognized Dr. Endrijonas for being a leader who champions gender equity in the city of Los Angeles.

She is president of Los Angeles Valley College, which is one of the largest of the nine campus in the Los Angeles Community College District (LACCD), since August 2014. During her tenure, she achieved a balanced budget, overseen the $626 million campus revitalization plan and found a home for Kent Twitchell's iconic mural "The Old Woman of the Freeway" (or "Freeway Lady").

Dr. Endrijonas is also the first out lesbian president in the history of the LACCD, and the founding member of the national organization of LGTBQ Presidents in Higher Education.

Congratulations to Dr. Endrijonas on this recognition of your leadership and service to the community.

LAVC Alumna Named California Teacher of the Year

The California State Superintendent of Education has named LAVC alumna Isela Lieber as a 2017 California Teacher of the Year. She was one of five outstanding educators across the state to be honored as 2017 California Teachers of the Year.

In addition, she was selected as one of 22 LAUSD's Teachers of the Year and one of 16 Los Angeles County of Education's Teachers of the Year.

Lieber, who immigrated to the U.S. with a seventh grade education and very little knowledge of the English language, now teaches English, English as a Second Language (ESL), and ESL science to ninth and tenth graders at James Monroe High School in the North Hills community of Los Angeles.

As an immigrant herself, she identifies and connects with the challenges faced by many of her students. She sponsors a student club called S.U.C.C.E.E.D., which helps guide first-generation high school graduates with the college admissions process so they can become first-generation college students. Under her leadership, the club provides after school workshops on applying for financial aid as well as community workshops for parents on the importance and process of college.

Lieber attended LAVC before transferring to California State University, Northridge to earn her bachelor's and master's degrees.
Student Health Center Named after Valley Presbyterian Hospital

In November 2016, Valley Presbyterian Hospital donated $50,000 to support the Student Health Center at LAVC. With the donation, the center was renamed The Valley Presbyterian Hospital Student Health Center. The donation will enable the center to purchase the necessary supplies needed as well as provide educational and marketing materials for students so they may take advantage of the services at the center.

The center is dedicated to providing high quality and cost-effective services in a comfortable and compassionate environment. It strives to keep students in optimal physical and mental health to facilitate academic success at LAVC by promoting healthy lifestyles and caring for physical and psychological needs.

Vicky Chang Awards $40,000 in Nursing Scholarships

Philanthropist Vicky Chang donated $40,000 to the LAVC Foundation this past year to provide scholarships for nursing students. Chang, who owns a construction company, also donated to eight other community colleges in the Los Angeles Community College District which is estimated to total over $300,000.

The scholarships will allowed students to prepare for and take the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX) which is a nationwide examination for the licensing of nurses.

Chang attended LAVC's Spring semester pinning ceremony at Monarch Hall in May. She was received with emotional gratitude from all of the recipients of her scholarship. “I was very happy to attend the ceremony and meet the students and I felt their overwhelming appreciation,” said Chang.

Monarch Football Team Goes Undefeated and Wins Bowl Game!

Congratulations to second-year Coach Robert Tucker and the men's football team for making LAVC history with an unprecedented 11-0 undefeated season record. The season was capped off with a win at the American Division Championship Bowl on November 2016 over Southwestern College by the score of 24-16 at Valley College. This is the second consecutive bowl game the Monarchs have won. In November 2015, the team won the Golden State Bowl.

A special thanks to Louis Jones, Dale Beck, Tim Knappen, Joseph Hernandez, Sandy Perry, coaches, staff and game management staff for a tremendous representation of Valley College over the season! In addition, Athletics thanks Christian Nova in the LAVC Music Department for collaborating to bring singers to perform the National Anthem at the championship game!
Greetings from LAVC President Dr. Erika Endrijonas

LAVC is gearing up for another great academic year. Almost 500 students participated in graduation ceremonies in early June, an increase over last year that required us to add seats for graduates and their families, and a trend we hope continues.

Construction is booming at LAVC with the Valley Academic and Cultural Center building underway. Other projects in the pipeline include our Thermal Energy Storage tank to expand the cooling capacity of our central plant, ADA accessibility improvements, a Planetarium expansion, and plans for the long-awaited removal of the bungalows and design of parking Lots H and J. Thanks to Los Angeles County voters’ passage of $3.3 billion dollar bond Measure CC in November 2016, the modernization of LAVC will continue for years to come with replacement of the Campus Center as the first proposed project.

LAVC completed 2016-2017 with a balanced budget – for the third consecutive year – which means that we will begin 2017-2018 on very solid financial ground and debt-free. We are excited to welcome our first class of LAUSD graduates as LA College Promise students in Fall 2017, and we look forward to the launch of our “Reverse Transfer” project with CSUN to increase the number of college graduates in the San Fernando Valley.

As always, I appreciate the financial support of our growing list of donors to the LAVC Foundation. Whether your donation provides general support for the Foundation for a particular department, or for a student scholarship, its impact is immeasurable in terms of promoting the success of every student at LAVC. We can’t do it without you!

Saying Goodbye to a Dear Friend

Longtime Foundation Board member Ken Worthen passed away in July 2017. Worthen had joined the LAVC Foundation in 1988. He worked for the Gas Company and arrived serving the Board during a transition period. He brought leadership and recruited fellow members from the business community. Ken served as President of the Board from 1992 to 1995 and then served as Treasurer from 1998 to 2003. In 2000, Ken and his wife Helen established the Eric Reiner Memorial Scholarship in Fire Technology to honor Helen’s son, an EMT, who was killed in a helicopter crash while providing care for a victim. The Reiner Memorial Scholarship continues to provide scholarships to this day.

Thank you for your years of service Ken. We will miss you very much!

Alumni Update

This coming NFL season, you can watch alumnus and LAVC Athletic Hall of Famer Eric Yarber on the sidelines as the Los Angeles Rams’ new Assistant Coach.

Yarber attended LAVC and played on the football team in the mid 1980’s and broke several records.

He was inducted into the LAVC Athletic Hall of Fame in 2008.

Foundation Awards $207K in Scholarships and Stipends

The LAVC Foundation has increased its scholarships and stipends awarded from $184,000 in 2016 to $207,000 in 2017!

In the past 15 years, the LAVC Foundation has awarded over $2.1 million in scholarships. An awards program was held in August 2016 where scholarship recipients and donors attended. The LAVC Foundation wishes to thank all of its contributors for continuing to make annual donations to scholarships and awards. A number of endowed scholarships have also been established ensuring perpetual scholarship funding.
Dear Valley College Friends & Supporters,

I am pleased to report that your Los Angeles Valley College Foundation Board of Directors held a half-day retreat this past July in order to explore opportunities for the Foundation to play a more significant role in the life of the Valley College campus!

As many of you may know, Los Angeles Valley College will be celebrating its 70th anniversary in 2019. College President Erika Endrijonas is very excited about ongoing early planning for events to commemorate this major milestone including a gala, alumni and campus events as well as public engagement with friends in the community! The 2019 anniversary will also coincide with the much anticipated opening of our new building, the Valley Academic Cultural Center (VACC)!

The VACC will feature classrooms, study and rehearsal spaces, a newsroom and radio station, faculty offices, and five separate theaters—a 450-seat Mainstage Theater, a 225-seat Screening Theater, a 150-seat Horseshoe Theater, an 80-seat Lab Theater and an Outdoor Amphitheater for performances and concerts. It is Dr. Endrijonas’ hope that we can bring back some of our celebrity alumni to help celebrate the VACC opening.

Coinciding with the opening of the VACC, the Foundation is taking advantage of this opportunity to conduct new fundraising campaigns. Among these possible activities includes fundraising efforts to replace the Music Department’s old piano fleet with new Steinway pianos, as well as establishing an endowment to maintain the pianos. In doing so, the college will become an “All Steinway School” emphasizing the college’s commitment to providing students and faculty with world class pianos for the study of music. Endowment campaigns are also being discussed for the VACC and our on-campus Family Resource Center (FRC) to ensure annual support for these important programs. We hope to garner interest and support by offering building and facility naming opportunities with these campaigns.

As our Foundation continues to discuss and carefully weigh these prospects, we would like to hear from you as someone who has supported our mission and charge. Please feel free to let us know your thoughts and interests including whether you would like to serve on a committee to plan and implement our objectives.

It just continues to be a wonderful time at Los Angeles Valley College. Our Foundation’s success in serving Valley College, its students, and the community is due to the financial and moral support received from friends like you! We are so appreciative.

Sincerely,

Eric Bubbers
President
Los Angeles Valley College Foundation
